Pam

Hey you! Yes, I'm talking to you! You are young, strong and energetic, but you are going to get older like me. At that time, younger people will make fun of you. I'm old, too old. I can not keep up with the latest technology and developments, that's why teenagers don't want to spend time and talk to me, but there is nothing I can do. I live in this house on my own. There is no one around me. When I was younger, the only thing we have to get in touch with someone was letter and the two things we can have fun with were radio and TV. Now, people can send text messages to each other, make phone calls, be friends through social media and use smart phones for useful purposes. Also, phones and smartphones can save lives. In a case of emergency, you can get help by using it. Also, booking, buying things online, donating money, organizing campaigns and having fun are other advantages of it. But, what about its cons? Does a phone has cons? Sure. Be careful about its dangers. It is not all safe.

1- Pam is fond of and good at using social applications to contact people.

2- Pam used to get a pen and paper and write her feelings, plans or dreams on paper, take it to the post office and send it to her friends fifty years ago.

3- Pam thinks phones have no disadvantages, so they are never risky for teens.

4- Pam is alone and she feels lonely.

5- Pam hates meeting younger people than her, that's why she hangs out with old people to travel and see historic places to remember the memories of the past.

I'm not sure, but I think it was two years ago. When I graduated from high school, my parents decided to buy a good one for me, but they always warn me about it. I agree all things they say, because if people, especially teenagers, don't control themselves, they may find themselves in bad situations. We need to set a time limit and obey that rule. It is both our enemy and friend.
